

PACIFIC INFINITE
MATHEW LYNN

DAYGALLERY

Mathew Lynn explores his love of Pacific saltwater life and places with intense colour, strong forms and suggestions of abstraction. At times there are echoes of Pop Cultural elements, but only as a means to identifying something truthful and resonant within them, not exoticism but actual heightened experience.

The pure resonance of colour and strong forms in and of itself acts as a parallel intention in the work, but is nevertheless transposed onto these places that are so dear to us, imbuing them with power, and a sense of transcendence in a very fragile world.

The background of the entire page is a colorful, abstract painting. It depicts a tropical scene with palm trees in shades of green, yellow, and orange. The ground is a mix of pink, purple, and blue. In the foreground, there is a white, rounded shape, possibly a dog's head, with blue and black accents. The overall style is expressive and painterly.
